

Best Navy Medicine Business Practices Now at Web portal

BUMED has unveiled a Web site, the Best Business Practices (BBP) e-Portal, which captures many of Navy Medicine's business innovations.

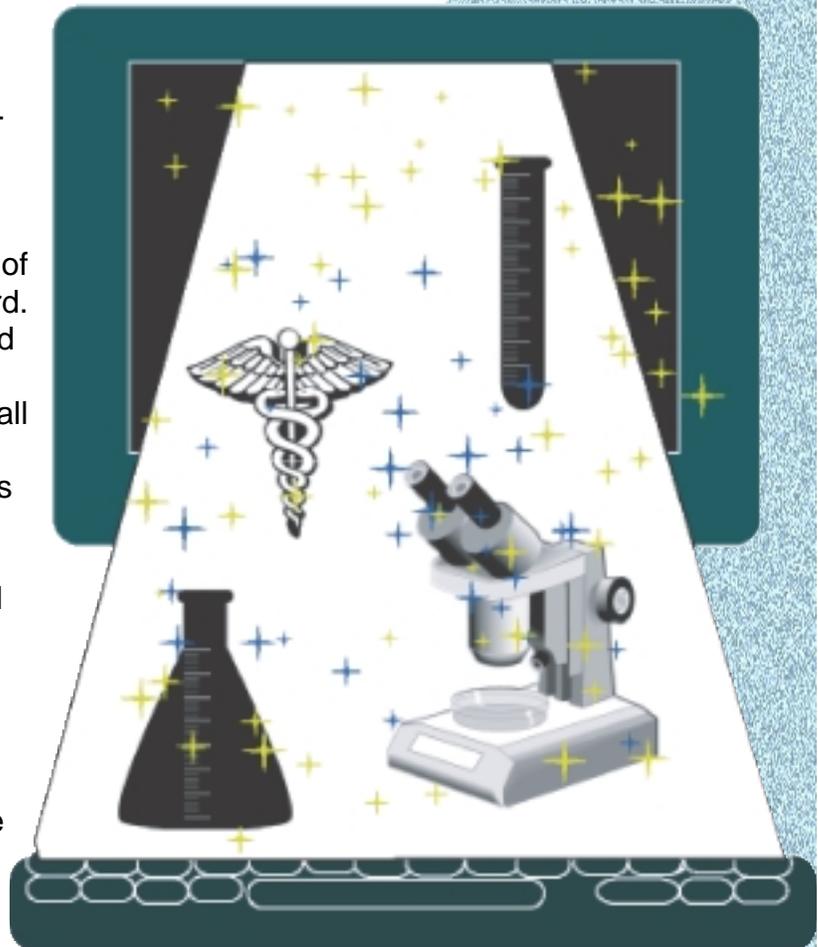

Imagine finding Navy Medicine's best business practices at the stroke of a few keys on your computer keyboard. Proven sound business practices, and even practices that haven't been fully developed but are showing promise, all readily available.

The e-Portal divides best business practices into three parts:

- Promising ideas from creative thinking and skills applied to practical issues;
- Everyday innovations fully implemented and having a positive impact on healthcare delivery;
- Innovative best business practices that have shown to produce superior results

Identifying, evaluating and proliferating best business practices is an earmark of a world-class organization. It's important that Navy Medicine professionals share their practices.

For additional information, visit the portal at <https://bumed.med.navy.mil/BBP> or call (202) 762-3334.
