

Stars and Stripes to Publish Financial Planning Guide

To help its readers make better financial decisions, Stars and Stripes, the daily newspaper of the U.S. military, will be producing and distributing its annual Financial Planning Guide Feb. 12.

This full color 16-page supplement will include useful information on saving, investing and budgeting military paychecks, with the aim to stretch them longer, along with tips on credit.

This supplement will be distributed along with the newspaper in the European and Pacific theaters – 25,100 and 14,000 respectively -- and will also be distributed starting Feb. 12 in the United States, where 275,000 copies will be distributed along with military newspapers across the nation's bases.

In addition to this, it will be available for download through Stars and Stripes' Web site at www.stripes.com starting Feb. 12.
