

Didn't know better Sailor

Today at 10:00am

Hey SocialSite fam, I will be deployed with my Carrier Strike Group. We should be underway soon. I can't wait for our first port visit to Marseille 3-6 and all the other countries we are scheduled to visit in the Middle East. We might see some decent action now that we have two SEAL Teams aboard. The air squadron with the new F-35s will be landing soon and we might have a few drones aboard. Those things really kick butt! That new Virginia class submarine will be joining us. I'll be posting pictures and updating you as soon as I get a WiFi signal while we are underway. See you in twelve months. Can't wait to hang out with all my shipmates.

ooooh. Sounds exciting. Mind if I share your post?

HASHIM

Keep me posted on the location of your strike group.

LINDA

You shouldn't post that type of information on this site.
